Annie and Daniel, thank you so much for coming up on what turned out to be short notice. I apologize for the lack of communication. I should not have relied on simply sending a summons with a date/time, but should have let you know that I intended to put you both on first. I hope you will both overlook this misstep and...ideally...forget about my performance during this trial all together. "Me Greg. Me think science stuff hard."

Thankfully, and as always, you were both terrific witnesses. I look forward to working with you again soon.

Greg
